

Maxim Tsarev

Graduate Student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Department of English and Comparative Literature
tsarev93@ad.unc.edu

Education

2018 B.A. German Literature, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin, Minor in Philosophy
Thesis: "The Pynchonesque in Daniel Kehlmann's Measuring the World"

Academic Appointments

Research Assistant to Professor Eliza Richards at UNC Chapel Hill
Research Assistant to Professor Shayne Legassie at UNC Chapel Hill

Languages

English
German
Russian
French
Medieval German

Research Interests

Horror and Liminality
Film and Media Studies
Critical Theory
20th Century film & literature in the USA, Germany, and Russia

Work Experience

2014 - 2015 Editorial Intern at Highsnobiety